Ego is one of the biggest weapons that is used to take us down. It's self-destructive. It's a problem on all levels - even regular people can have big ego problems.

~Yehuda Berg

Share love. Share time. Share friendship. Just share. Put some love into everything you do.

~Yehuda Berg

Love is a weapon of Light, and it has the power to eradicate all forms of darkness. That is the key. When we offer love even to our enemies, we destroy their darkness and hatred.

~Yehuda Berg

When you're truly connecting with wisdom, the more you learn, the more you realize the less you know.

~Yehuda Berg

If you are seeking the right path, you are already on the right path.

~Yehuda Berg

The more we invest in our spirituality, the more consistently we can elevate our consciousness and connect to the spiritual source of everything good.

~Yehuda Berg

Listening better. Caring more. Being there. Its not big changes, but the little ones in our daily lives that make all the difference. With little ways to love more, big things happen

~Yehuda Berg

Be the kind of person you want to be with... If you don't like the people in your life, you are the one who has to change, not them.

~Yehuda Berg

At the end of the day, the key to happiness is taking ultimate responsibility for your reactions to all of your experiences - the good and the chaotic.

~Yehuda Berg

Overthinking is often a product of underdoing.

~Yehuda Berg

Your garbage, transformed, is your gift.

~Yehuda Berg

If we are going to be happy and have any chance at growing then we must learn how to forgive others ... and ourselves.

~Yehuda Berg

Healing is a choice. It's not an easy one because it takes work to turn around your habits. But keep making the choice and shifts will happen.

~Yehuda Berg

We need to realize that our path to transformation is through our mistakes. We're meant to make mistakes, recognize them, and move on to become unlimited.

~Yehuda Berg

The problem with certainty is that sometimes it can sound cold and heartless, although it is the most compassionate and supportive answer.

~Yehuda Berg

It's our own small voice within that is our oppressor; it says we are not worthy and not powerful enough. Our limited beliefs are the real foes we need to fight and conquer.

~Yehuda Berg

Change is inevitable. Things absolutely cannot stay the same. The type of change we invoke is up to each and every one of us.

~Yehuda Berg

In truth, we are all part of the team of humanity. And as such, we are all obligated to share ourselves, and our talents, for the sake of the team.

~Yehuda Berg

The bottom line is: We must be working on arriving at the destination for which we were put on this planet.

~Yehuda Berg

God never answers prayers. It is people who answer their own prayers by knowing how to connect and utilize the divine energy of the Creator and the God-like force in their own souls.

~Yehuda Berg

Every little action creates an effect: We are all interconnected.

~Yehuda Berg

In every relationship, the work is never just in the positive actions we do for each other, but in the follow up.

~Yehuda Berg

I believe that if Mohammed, Buddha, Jesus, and Moses all got together they would be best of friends because the spiritual basis of all religions is something that builds unity.

~Yehuda Berg

Love is the weapon of the future.

~Yehuda Berg

When I grew up I thought I was Jewish. Now I don't consider myself Jewish. I consider myself a Kabbalis.

~Yehuda Berg

Personal responsibility is not only recognizing the errors of our ways. Personal responsibility lies in our willingness and ability to correct those errors individually and collectively.

~Yehuda Berg

When you give 100 percent to another person, two literally become one.

~Yehuda Berg

Kabbalah is all about change. It isn't about being proud of our good qualities: the wisdom is about transforming our darkness into light.

~Yehuda Berg

The truth is that we were born to have it all. And part of our handicap as adults is that we no longer understand our potential.

~Yehuda Berg

Addiction is a revolt of the soul.

~Yehuda Berg

The only way to get to Heaven is to go through Hell.

~Yehuda Berg

I do believe that the original sources of all religions should be taught, because with that we will find our similarities, not just our differences.
