My dad can be pretty critical sometimes.

~Zara Phillips

I don't mind a big fascinator. I think there is more scope for artwork in a fascinator rather than a hat.

~Zara Phillips

Virtually everything that gets printed about me is wrong anyway, so it doesn't really matter what you say.

~Zara Phillips

I was always told from the hat-makers that you should have your hair up because it shows the hat more. It feels more 'done' when your hair is up.

~Zara Phillips

I hate having my picture taken.

~Zara Phillips

I don't think about the media.

~Zara Phillips

I love hats; I love putting hats on. They are artwork. You can always go out and find a dress to wear for some occasion, but there are not that many occasions you can wear a hat.

~Zara Phillips

The horses are all characters, all personalities. Some you get along with, some you don't, some might take a bit longer.

~Zara Phillips

I'm not a princess anyway so I find that quite weird to be labelled as one.

~Zara Phillips

I'm an affectionate person.

~Zara Phillips

Unfortunately in sport it's either good or bad. You've got to take the highs and the lows.

~Zara Phillips

The senior members of the royal family work very hard and I don't think people quite realise that.

~Zara Phillips

It's stupid to say that I don't like being in the public eye, but I don't like doing stuff that's not needed.

~Zara Phillips

I think Facebook's dangerous. So many people I know get into trouble with Facebook... I'd rather just pick up the phone. Or Skype.

~Zara Phillips

I love the sport and being competitive.

~Zara Phillips

You cannot make horses 'safe.

~Zara Phillips

I'm not trying to succeed for the people who are waiting for me to fail. I'm doing it for myself. I'm one for the 'You only live once so you should do as much as you can' sort of thing.

~Zara Phillips

My dad's not a big talker.

~Zara Phillips

I'd love to have kids, but not at the moment.
