Science and technology can solve all the world's problems, and historically it has been shown to make the world better and better.

~Zoltan Istvan

Transhumanism literally means "beyond human." It's using science and technology to radically change and improve the human species and experience.

~Zoltan Istvan

We didn't evolve through billions of years to remain animals.

~Zoltan Istvan

Frederick Nietzsche was important to me, in teaching that it's okay to strive to improve the human being.

~Zoltan Istvan

Transhumanist technology will do much for the world that the world can't really imagine yet, including overcome some of the climate issues the world is facing.

~Zoltan Istvan

My goal is to try to tell the public that America could use more science and technology in all aspects of its life.

~Zoltan Istvan

It amazes me that we spend 20% of the US budget on defense and far-off wars, and not on fighting cancer, disease, and aging.
